Methods for the production of aqueous highly viscous coating compositions, in particular those which have a low Kauri gum content, are known from the prior art. For example, DE-A-31 37 739, EP-A-390 647 and EP-A-391 016 all disclose aqueous highly viscous coating compositions having a low Kauri gum content. However, the production of these highly viscous coating compositions requires particular measures during the preparation of the highly viscous coating composition, such as the addition of special thickening agents or the addition of a polymer having low viscosity. Methods for the production of aqueous highly viscous coating compositions, in particular those which have a high Kauri gum content, are also known from the prior art. For example, EP-A-0 557 646, EP-A-0 557 648, EP-A-0 557 649, EP-A-0 667 822 and EP-A-0 711 869 all disclose aqueous highly viscous coating compositions having a high Kauri gum content. However, the production of these highly viscous coating compositions requires particular measures during the preparation of the highly viscous coating composition, such as the addition of special thickening agents or the addition of a polymer having
