Mendeley 2.0 is released! What are the main changes? • New features • API has been improved • Other improvements In this tutorial, we'll be showing you how to create a collections.json file, export a single Mendeley document, export all Mendeley documents to Kindle from the Mendeley 1.x or 2.x client, export all Mendeley documents to Kindle from Mendeley Web and how to export multiple collections from the Mendeley 2.0 client to Kindle. Requirements: Kindle ebook reader for this tutorial and Mendeley 2.0 or Mendeley 1.x client. Kindle Ebook Reader for this Tutorial: With Kindle app and Kindle for PC, you can easily read pdf, epub, mobi, doc, rtf and more. Download and Install Mendeley 2.0 or Mendeley 1.x client: Make sure that you have the latest version of both Mendeley 1.x and Mendeley 2.0 client installed. Step 1: Create a Collections.json File Select the file menu on the left-hand side and choose "Create Collection". Choose the folder where you want to save your collections.json file. Enter the title of your collection and click "Create". You should now see your collection on the list of collections on the right hand side. You may be asked if you want to convert your current collection to a collection.json, click "yes". Step 2: Export a Single Mendeley Document to Kindle With Kindle 2.2 you can simply export a single Mendeley document to Kindle by just clicking the "Export to Kindle" button on the top right hand corner of the Mendeley client. You should now see your document listed in the Kindle application. Click the "Open" button, your document should now be opened. Once opened you can follow the steps below to export all Mendeley documents to Kindle Step 3: Export All Mendeley Documents to Kindle from Mendeley 1.x or 2.0 client On your Kindle device, go to the folder where you have stored your Mendeley documents. In Mendeley, select all the files and hit the "Export" button on the top right corner.
