Prompts for the user password before unlocking the encrypted disk. With FileVault enabled, you don't have to unlock the disk yourself: simply wake the system from sleep or lock it and Mac OS X automatically begins the unlock process. Mac OS X 10.8 Leopard,. The Mac OS X version of FileVault 2 is a free update for Mac OS X Leopard users who have the free Mac OS X Lion software already installed. In this article, we describe the new FileVault 2 system settings. The Mac OS X FileVault

2 feature, though, is completely different from the original FileVault feature available in Mac OS X Leopard. In addition to the new.xml file it generates, the new.xml file is quite similar to the original FileVault.xml file and will not be usable for the same purpose if you were using the original FileVault feature. FileVault2-COMPACT-TEXT.xml.zip - 23.72 MB FileVault2-COMPACT-TEXT.xml – FileVault2 TEXT (converter) generates simple.xml files for FileVault2 in case TEXT and/or Text Expander is installed on the system. Currently this.xml file is only used by Mac OS X (10.7 and older) FileVault2 but it could be also used for FileVault1 by those who want to convert to (re-)lock their data. 2011-01-14: For those who are interested in having a quick fix to change FileVault password on Mac OS X 10.6, we published a free.xml file that allows you to do so. The original file is a pack containing 3.xml files that work like this one : [It won't work on Mac OS X 10.7 and older.
